Waiting in the Wings

Waiting is never easy! We want action, not stillness. We desire to be in the game, not on the sidelines. We want to do something that matters, not sit back and watch. How many of us have found ourselves in times of waiting? Waiting for the next scene...waiting for things to change...waiting for things to get back to normal. Waiting for something to happen, or for someone to notice....

But as believers we know that waiting can be good because in waiting we learn to be patient. The Bible says that we need patience because it will ultimately make us complete.

Our family is experiencing one of those times of waiting. As we wait on Brian's health to improve, we are learning to be patient. We are finding that it is better to wait on the Lord than to wait for our circumstances to change. Waiting on the Lord gives us the comfort of knowing that something is going on....work is being done....even if we can't see it.

We want to thank those of you who have been praying with us for Brian's health to improve. The doctors here have indicated that he will need at least six months to recuperate and that it could take even longer to completely feel like himself again. We ask that you continue to pray with us for complete healing if that is what God desires. We also ask that you pray God's will be done in our lives and that we would learn and grow and become more like His Son, Jesus.
